Project Title: Integration of AI Breast Cancer Prediction into The OpenMRS System

Project Student: Rayan Gadmor

The project aims to enhance healthcare in low-setting environments by integrating an artificial intelligence predictive model for breast cancer prediction into the open-source health information system OpenMRS. The model is focused on predicting Invasive ductal carcinoma (IDC) and provides results as the probability of the uploaded breast cancer screening image being invasive or normal.

We seek the experts to provide their feedback on the framework and the usefulness of the findings. The collected feedback will be included in our evaluation chapter of the MSc project report. We will include your name, position, and your feedback in our MSc project report. Moreover, all your information will be used only in the report submitted to the University of Leeds.

Please proceed with this form if you feel comfortable about the above.

I acknowledge and confirm the following:
I. I agree that I have been properly introduced to the project above, and the project details and steps have been shared with me.
II. I understand that my participation is voluntary and that I am free to withdraw at any time before Aug 26, 2022 (the report submission date), without giving any reason and without there being any negative consequences. In addition, should I not wish to answer any particular question or questions, I am free to decline.
III. I agree to provide my feedback about the project as an expert in my field.
IV. I understand that my responses will be only used in the report submitted by Rayan Gadmor as a part of the MSc project evaluation.
V. I understand that my name and position will be linked with the project materials, and I will be identified in the report that results from the project.

	By checking (√) the box, I agree with all the statements above.
